

Improving Behaviour in Schools

RESEARCH
SCHOOL

Learn-AT
Associate Research School

Misbehaviour in lessons is something that has been documented by teachers for centuries. And while most pupils in most lessons are well-behaved, it's a major cause of stress for teachers and can have a lasting impact on the outcomes of the pupils in the class. There's a clear need for school to have consistent and clear behaviour policies that promote positive behaviour in lessons.

This session is designed to support senior leaders in primary and secondary schools to make better-informed decisions about their behaviour strategies. It includes a number of practical examples of programmes and approaches that should be helpful in schools and classrooms where behaviour is generally good as where there are problems.

- Know and understand your pupils and their influences
  - Teach learning behaviours alongside managing misbehaviour
- Use classroom management strategies to support good classroom behaviour
  - Use simple approaches as part of your regular routine
- Tailor targeted approaches to meet the needs of individuals in your school
